

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

GENERAL COURSE

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

TO STUDENTS NOW IN THE GENERAL COURSE (EXTENSION)

7 X This spring we are planning an experiment with spring and summer evening courses. Six courses will be offered on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00 until 9:30 p.m. Classes will begin on Wednesday evening, May 13, and end on Monday evening, August 10. 400 Examinations will be written with the daytime Summer Session classes during the week of August 17.

The additional classes are being held to provide an opportunity for students to study one more course during the year. If the response to this summer's courses is sufficient, every effort will be made to offer a small number of summer evening courses in subsequent years. However, there can be no guarantee for the future at this time.

Regular Students who have standing in at least one course in the B.A. programme will be welcome in the summer evening programme. Special Students and students who have not yet established credit for their first course, will attend classes in the daytime summer session, or in the fall and winter evening programme.

The tuition fee for a summer evening course will be $85.00.

Students may not transfer from a summer evening course to a summer daytime course during the session.

Enclosed is a reply form which we ask you to return as soon as possible so that we will know whether you are interested in our new venture. If too few are interested, it may be necessary to withdraw the evening classes. On the other hand, if too many applications are received, it may not be possible to accept some. In this case the first forms to arrive will have priority.

Please do not indicate that you are planning to register, if there is very much doubt about attending. We are anxious to find out as accurately as possible how popular this venture is likely to be.
